

AutPlay® and Play Therapy Interventions for Autism, ADHD and Other Neurodevelopmental Disorders

Accredited Play Therapy Training (Total 18 accredited hours)

AutPlay® Therapy, a Play Therapy and Behavioral Therapy approach to working with children and adolescents with autism spectrum disorder (ASD), neurodevelopmental disorders, and other developmental disabilities which is created by Dr. Grand. Professionals can become certified in AutPlay® Therapy by completing certification requirements.

Come explore how play therapy can be a viable and effective treatment for neurodevelopmental disorders! Day one and day two training will focus on learning play therapy approaches and interventions that address the core struggle areas of children with autism, ADHD, and other neurodevelopmental disorders which include: social skill deficits, emotional regulation challenges, relationship development issues, concentration and focus issues, and anxiety struggles. Day three will present an introduction to the AutPlay® Therapy, which is part of requirement for the certification of AutPlay® Therapy.
